

DON'T HATE US, Foe TOLD D. C. OFFICER

It is now time for the allies "to give the German people a just peace in peace terms which will give them the liberty to live justly and peacefully with the world at large and which will leave no hate to again disturb the peace of the world," according to the commandant of the German prison camp at Villengen, in a speech to allied prisoners immediately before their release.

This information was received from one of the discharged prisoners, Lieut. J. G. Graham, who lives at 1224 1/2 Twenty-first street northwest, in a letter to his parents. Lieutenant Graham's letter quotes the German commandant as saying:

"We all hope that you will reach your home safely and find everyone in good health. I again request you not to go back to Germany with hatred against us, and to influence your people to look upon Germany not as an enemy, but as a nation which has been judged—perhaps justly—up to the present time. The new Germany has the desire to live in perfect peace with its recent enemies, but in the same manner to live as promised by President Wilson."

Lieutenant Graham was taken prisoner by the Germans as he lay wounded on the field during the second battle of the Marne.

ESCAPED SINN FEIN LEADER IS IN PARIS

CORK, Feb. 11.—Prof. Edward De Valera, Sinn Fein leader who recently escaped from an English prison, has arrived in Paris, according to reports received here today.

De Valera, providing the above dispatch is confirmed, probably will present Ireland's claim to independence before the peace conference. He was ejected to the new British parliament from East Clare.

LOYALST TROOPS TAKE TWO TOWNS

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—Government troops have occupied Bremerhaven and Geestemünde, it was announced today.

Don't trifle with a cold—it's dangerous. You can't afford to risk influenza. Keep always at hand a box of

HILL'S
"ASCARA" QUININE

Standard cold remedy for 20 years—in tablet form, sure, safe, and effective. Cures colds, flu, fever, headache, and all ailments. 24 hours—relieves grip in 3 days. Money back if it fails. The genuine box has a Red top and Mr. Hill's picture. At All Drug Stores.

HOW TO GET RID OF CORNS

A Simple, Safe and Reliable Way. No Pain or Soreness.

Thanks to a new discovery made from a Japanese product women will soon be wearing smaller and prettier shoes than ever. Corns are to be a thing of the past. A new preparation, called Ice-Mint, is said to make any corn or callous disappear in a few days. It is a simple, safe and reliable way. No pain or soreness. People are warned to stop cutting and trimming their corns and avoid the risk of blood poisoning. Simply get a few cents worth of Ice-Mint from your druggist, and from the very second that it touches that sore, tender corn your foot, aching, itching, will feel so cool, easy and comfortable that you will just wash with water and apply it over and over. People are warned to stop cutting and trimming their corns and avoid the risk of blood poisoning. Simply get a few cents worth of Ice-Mint from your druggist, and from the very second that it touches that sore, tender corn your foot, aching, itching, will feel so cool, easy and comfortable that you will just wash with water and apply it over and over. People are warned to stop cutting and trimming their corns and avoid the risk of blood poisoning. Simply get a few cents worth of Ice-Mint from your druggist, and from the very second that it touches that sore, tender corn your foot, aching, itching, will feel so cool, easy and comfortable that you will just wash with water and apply it over and over.

ADVERTISMENT

HUSBAND HAD COUGH—WIFE
FEARED HE HAD THE "FLU"

Tells How She Stopped It. Says
She Honestly Thinks He Was Catching It.

GAVE HIM HYPO-COD.

"My husband had a bad cough and cold. In fact he was threatened with the Spanish Influenza and had all the usual symptoms," declares a Washington lady whose name is given below. "We had seen in the papers how Hypo-Cod was a good preventive and I knew he needed a good tonic any way so we got a bottle. The first bottle had cured his cold right up and I never hear him cough any more. It has given him a fine appetite and he is stronger and feels better in every way, too, and I honestly believe that the terrible cold he had would have run into the 'flu' if it had not been for Hypo-Cod. I am certainly glad to recommend Hypo-Cod for I know it contains the same things the doctor gave me when I was run down and needed a building up," declared Mrs.

PRESIDENT IS GOD'S CHOSEN, SAYS BILLY

Six thousand persons crowded into Liberty Hut on Union Station Plaza last night to hear Billy Sunday, on a "Flying trip" to Washington from his Richmond campaign, (Ray Bolshewism, Germany, whiskey and the devil in his own characteristic way.

Six thousand persons crowded up and cheered for five minutes when Billy declared that God always waits for his instruments—that he had waited for "Woodrow Wilson to sit at the peace table in these dark days, just as he waited for Joan of Arc to free the French people and for George Washington to drive the millions of sons of ill from our shores."

"And I'm not a Democrat either," said Billy.

Billy declared that while the war is apparently over there is just as grave a menace hanging over the heads of our people now as were the German hordes in 1914.

"Bolshewism," unless it is stamped out," he said, "is destined to develop from a festering sore to a national cancer and unless an operation is performed it will kill the nation."

Every propagandist of Bolshewism back to Russia and then climb up on the Statue of Liberty and kiss the old girl for joy," he said.

"Rhody" Denounces Breast Camp. Billy's preliminary trio, Rhode Island, Brewster and Matthews, entertained the crowd for fully an hour before the big show began. "Rhody" sang and entertained the audience with anecdotes of Yanks in France.

He declared that every man who had lived through a period at Brest was deserving of a Croix-de-Guerre. "Mat" and Brewster "ragged" several of Billy's famous hymns on the piano.

Billy and his party left after the performance for Richmond, where he will continue his campaign there for two more weeks.

Here are some "Billyisms": "When I came in this fabrikated to-night every bench, post, rather board, knot, and knothole seemed to say, 'Hello, Billy, glad to see you back.'"

"Major Pullman and the Washington police are the finest bunch of cops I ever fricked a crook, knocked a safe-cracker, or buzzed a porch climber."

"Raps Old John Barleycorn. "Before long it will be so dry in America that you will have to prime a man to make him spit."

"Anybody who says, 'No beer, no work can go to the devil. And any organization that fosters such people as this can go to hell. They are anarchists of the left.'"

"Trotsky and his bewhiskered, lousy, sin-infested, garlic-breathed, putrid, souled bunch of cutthroats and cut-throats are the outgrowth of soapbox oratory in New York."

"Why when that damnable isard goes out for a little outfitting breakfast he takes a special train of fifteen cars armed with machine guns to shoot down defenseless people just for sport."

"I send the whole Bolshhevik tribe in this country back to Russia, and then let me be God for about fifteen minutes there wouldn't be any of them left."

"The Bolshhevik yell is 'Down with capital.' Why they claim that every man who owns a Liberty bond, a life insurance policy, or his own home is a capitalist."

"Our libraries are nothing but cemeteries for a lot of dead books, but there is one book which will never die—the Bible."

"You might as well try to shoot green peas at Gibraltar with a popgun or to dam Niagara with a toothpick as to buy the Bible."

"A few months ago millions would cheer at the Kaiser's name. Now this same bunch needs a soda mint to cheer their stomachs every time you mention his name."

"I never mention the Kaiser and his bunch of international porch climbers without using a disinfectant to wash out my mouth."

"The Kaiser is the ambassador from Hell."

"The Kaiser said he and God were partners. He's a liar. He and the devil are partners, and he has made Hell a side show."

"Germany lost when she turned from the church to Krupp. The Prussian eagle became a turkey buzzard."

"This talk of not fighting the German people is all bunk. The German people backed the Kaiser when his head was on a platter, when they destroyed Russia, when they choked Roumania, when they jimmied their way into Serbia, and when they burglarized France. This same bunch could have done the same thing to the United States."

"Culture without morals is doomed. Germany's thick head and Russia is on the tologogon so fast you can't see her for dust."

NAT GOODWIN LEAVES $6,000. NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Nat. Goodwin, who died January 31, left an estate of only $6,000 in his personal estate, it was disclosed when his parents, Nathaniel C. and Caroline Goodwin, aged eighty-five, and his wife, Mrs. Goodwin, made application in the surrogate's court for letters of administration.

ADVERTISMENT

HUSBAND HAD COUGH—WIFE
FEARED HE HAD THE "FLU"

Tells How She Stopped It. Says
She Honestly Thinks He Was Catching It.

GAVE HIM HYPO-COD.

"My husband had a bad cough and cold. In fact he was threatened with the Spanish Influenza and had all the usual symptoms," declares a Washington lady whose name is given below. "We had seen in the papers how Hypo-Cod was a good preventive and I knew he needed a good tonic any way so we got a bottle. The first bottle had cured his cold right up and I never hear him cough any more. It has given him a fine appetite and he is stronger and feels better in every way, too, and I honestly believe that the terrible cold he had would have run into the 'flu' if it had not been for Hypo-Cod. I am certainly glad to recommend Hypo-Cod for I know it contains the same things the doctor gave me when I was run down and needed a building up," declared Mrs.

Ain't It a Grand and Glorious Feelin'?

AFTER SPENDING YOUR MORNINGS, SERVING LINES OF SOLDIERS AT SOME CANTEN TRYING TO WORK UP THAT "SOMEBODY'S BOY" FEELING

AND YOUR AFTERNOONS AS HOSTESS AT SOME OFFICER'S CLUB HEARING ALL ABOUT SOMEONE'S GIRL

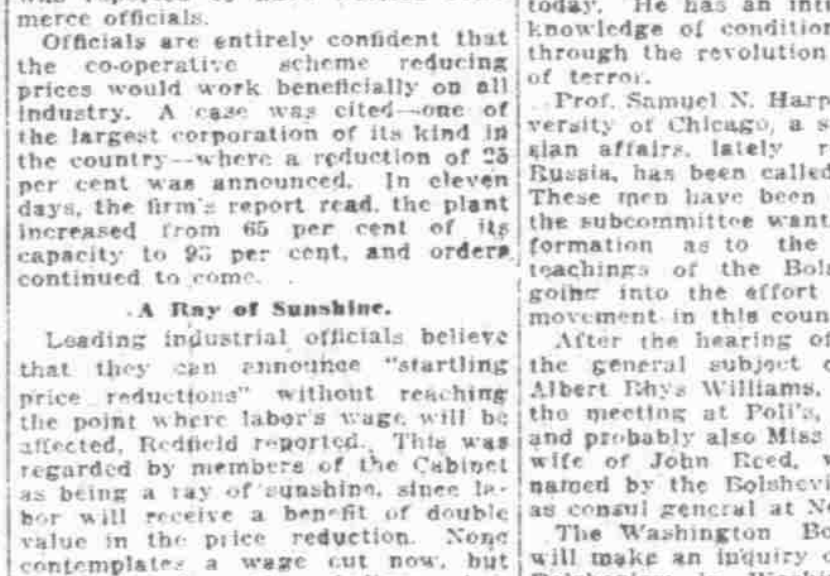

OR DISCUSSING THE RELATIVE VALUE OF OAK AND MAPLE COFFINS WITH SOMEONE WHO WAS IN THE BUSINESS BEFORE THE WAR

YOU GET A CABLE THAT YOUR OWN IS ON HIS WAY BACK HOME AND TO YOU

OH GIRLS! WON'T IT BE A GR-R-R-RAND AND GLOR-R-RIOUS FEELING? TA TATA

YOU GET A CABLE THAT YOUR OWN IS ON HIS WAY BACK HOME AND TO YOU

OH GIRLS! WON'T IT BE A GR-R-R-RAND AND GLOR-R-RIOUS FEELING? TA TATA

REDFIELD STARTS FIGHT ON PRICES

America thought needs reconstructing, and it must come from industrial reconstruction, so said Secretary of Commerce Redfield, who, today, admonished the nation "to quit thinking war and begin thinking peace."

In the next ten weeks industry, labor and capital face the most critical period, Redfield asserted. It's between "hay and grass, between indoor and outdoor work," he explained. During that time the industrial problem may grow more serious unless the nation's mind gets off of the war track onto the peace track, he added.

Prices Must Come Down. All of this Redfield urged in pointing out that prices must be scaled down. His plan for a price adjustment committee awaits only the President's sanction. Committees from the various industries will be called in as quickly as the Redfield committee is approved by President Wilson.

The plan has the strong approval of the Treasury Department. It is known. Secretary Glass has called the President that the reduction of prices and stabilization of business conditions is imperative. Its effect on the success of the Victory loan was said to be the motive behind the Treasury's support. A re-opening of business, a winding of the wheels of industry must be accomplished again if the fifth great popular loan does not open with dangers confronting it.

Fear "Trust" Stigma. Redfield said that many great basic industries were ready and willing to lop off prices. But, in some cases, at least, they were delaying because of the fear that a sudden drop in prices would cause them to be labelled immediately as a trust. They would be charged with "price cutting and unfair competition," one recalled trust was reported to have written commerce officials.

Officials are entirely confident that the co-operative scheme reducing prices would work beneficially on all industry. A case was cited—one of the largest corporations of its kind in the country where a reduction of 25 per cent was announced. In eleven days, the firm's report read, the plant increased from 65 per cent of its capacity to 95 per cent, and orders continued to come.

A Ray of Sunshine. Leading industrial officials believe that they can announce "startling price reductions" without reaching the point where labor's wage will be affected, Redfield reported. This was regarded by members of the cabinet as being a ray of sunshine, since labor will receive a benefit of double value in the price reduction. None contemplates a wage cut now, but officials declare they believe when living costs are cheaper strikes for higher wages will become in dispute even among the agitators.

Commerce officials say that construction materials will be the first considered for price readjustment. Steel also will be taken up early. There, it is pointed out, will clear the way for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said.

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

Senator Penrose, who will be next chairman of the Finance Committee, discussing the tax revenue bill yesterday, said:

"It is sufficient to say that the bill is very far from perfect, and the taxes are too high, particularly on individual incomes. The taxes, however, come down considerably next year, and it is to be hoped that this is the last bill which will contain a provision for an early resumption of building which Redfield believes is one of the first things to be brought about in avoiding a general stagnation of business. Textiles and foodstuffs are basic materials which follow construction materials and steel before the committee, it was said."

By Briggs

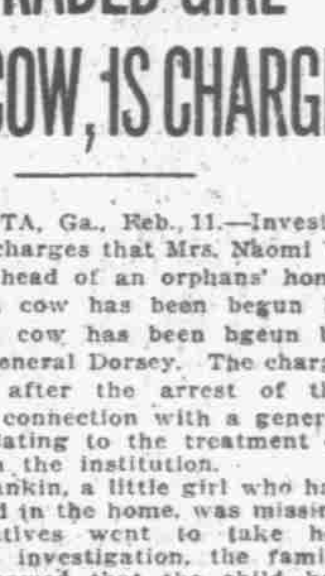

AFTER SPENDING YOUR MORNINGS, SERVING LINES OF SOLDIERS AT SOME CANTEN TRYING TO WORK UP THAT "SOMEBODY'S BOY" FEELING

AND YOUR AFTERNOONS AS HOSTESS AT SOME OFFICER'S CLUB HEARING ALL ABOUT SOMEONE'S GIRL

OR DISCUSSING THE RELATIVE VALUE OF OAK AND MAPLE COFFINS WITH SOMEONE WHO WAS IN THE BUSINESS BEFORE THE WAR

YOU GET A CABLE THAT YOUR OWN IS ON HIS WAY BACK HOME AND TO YOU

OH GIRLS! WON'T IT BE A GR-R-R-RAND AND GLOR-R-RIOUS FEELING? TA TATA

YOU GET A CABLE THAT YOUR OWN IS ON HIS WAY BACK HOME AND TO YOU

OH GIRLS! WON'T IT BE A GR-R-R-RAND AND GLOR-R-RIOUS FEELING? TA TATA

HENEY SEES DANGER OF REVOLT IN U. S.

Prosecution of the packers would be useless, in the opinion of Francis J. Heney, special counsel for the Federal Trade Commission, who spoke at the annual meeting of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association last night.

"I have been asked why I am not prosecuting the packers," said Mr. Heney. "Such a thing would be useless. You cannot prosecute $100,000,000."

"I am not an anarchist, or an I. W. W., or a bolshevik. I have no panacea to cure our economic ills. We cannot remedy our economic ills by resorting to the criminal law."

Mr. Heney declared that the young men, who ordinarily would go into business, were restrained by the privilege of the law. The government was getting control of the clothing, fuel and food supplies.

"Let us hope that a revolution shall not take place in this country because we do not see where the error lies in our unequal distribution of wealth, before it is too late," said Mr. Heney.

Living Conditions Worse. Mr. Heney also spoke of the wage situation.

"About 65 per cent of the people of the United States were earning only $500 before the war," he stated. "Today this 65 per cent is earning but $1,000. The cost of living has gone up approximately 75 per cent. Thus the living conditions of these 65 per cent of the people is 25 per cent worse than before the war."

During the meeting an oil portrait was presented to Ross P. Andrews, retiring president. Joseph Berberich made the presentation.

The salary of Charles J. Columbus, secretary of the association, was raised to $3,000 a year.

Mr. Heney also spoke of the wage situation.

"About 65 per cent of the people of the United States were earning only $500 before the war," he stated. "Today this 65 per cent is earning but $1,000. The cost of living has gone up approximately 75 per cent. Thus the living conditions of these 65 per cent of the people is 25 per cent worse than before the war."

During the meeting an oil portrait was presented to Ross P. Andrews, retiring president. Joseph Berberich made the presentation.

The salary of Charles J. Columbus, secretary of the association, was raised to $3,000 a year.

Mr. Heney also spoke of the wage situation.

"About 65 per cent of the people of the United States were earning only $500 before the war," he stated. "Today this 65 per cent is earning but $1,000. The cost of living has gone up approximately 75 per cent. Thus the living conditions of these 65 per cent of the people is 25 per cent worse than before the war."

During the meeting an oil portrait was presented to Ross P. Andrews, retiring president. Joseph Berberich made the presentation.

The salary of Charles J. Columbus, secretary of the association, was raised to $3,000 a year.

Mr. Heney also spoke of the wage situation.

"About 65 per cent of the people of the United States were earning only $500 before the war," he stated. "Today this 65 per cent is earning but $1,000. The cost of living has gone up approximately 75 per cent. Thus the living conditions of these 65 per cent of the people is 25 per cent worse than before the war."

During the meeting an oil portrait was presented to Ross P. Andrews, retiring president. Joseph Berberich made the presentation.

The salary of Charles J. Columbus, secretary of the association, was raised to $3,000 a year.

Mr. Heney also spoke of the wage situation.

"About 65 per cent of the people of the United States were earning only $500 before the war," he stated. "Today this 65 per cent is earning but $1,000. The cost of living has gone up approximately 75 per cent. Thus the living conditions of these 65 per cent of the people is 25 per cent worse than before the war."

During the meeting an oil portrait was presented to Ross P. Andrews, retiring president. Joseph Berberich made the presentation.